AFRICA UNITE
BUILDING HUMAN RIGHTS COMMUNITIES

What I learnt

- ▶ Africa Unite is a human rights and youth empowerment organisation that works with young people from different backgrounds to prevent conflict, enhance social cohesion, and promote socio-economic development.
- ▶ As I learnt more about human rights, principles, education, right of refugees and Migrants, and facilitation at Goedgedacht farm at Malmesbury, I will commit myself to empower my fellow women and deal with gender equality, support girl child and all forms of human rights, it now starts with me in my country Malawi!

ACTIVITIES DONE!

During one of the school activity program with the new elected school President at Zonnebloem high school clubs!

I cant wait to open some Africa Unite School Clubs in Malawi.

Slave Tour

- ▶ I have learnt that life is not about colour but the feeling of diversity! The human right!
- ▶ We must embrace our culture the way Steve Biko and other South African human rights advocates did!
- ▶ It was in 1834-1838 before south Africa got its independence in 1994.
- ▶ I need to deal with Mental slavery to fight human rights when I get back home in Malawi

My advocacy my country

Workshop on Economic Literacy

- ▶ With capitalist economy, I learnt that I must produce my art works for profit!
- ▶ When I am talking about effects of climate change I will combine it with the economic crisis too.
- ▶ I will use my art skills to resolve conflicts in Malawi

Parliament of South Africa Tour

Africa is our home, so we must deal with all the foreign policies as charity begins at home!

Democracy is how we empower human power, make sure the well fare is accomplished, its up to us the youth to make the lead and chance as Africa is rich with resources.

Future plan, experience and vision

- ▶ I am ready to build a human rights culture among my fellow Malawians. (to use my art skills in human rights) and also think outside the box.
- ▶ As I continue to inform and educate people about the SDG's, I will merge the human rights with SDG and make sure that no one is left behind by the year 2030.
- ▶ To be my own boss and employ others within art work
- ▶ I have build relationships and friendships that will last for my whole lifetime.
- ▶ The experience is a milestone and life changing, my perception and respect and dignity towards people.
- ▶ I am leaving with a true picture of Cape town depending on both sides of the coin.
- ▶ I had lots of fun! Fun and so much fun!
